

SPECIAL OFFER FOR THE FINAL WEEKEND OF THE FESTIVAL

BUY ONE, GET ONE FREE

Fri 5 Mar

Laila Diallo (Canada/UK)

'An evening of Work'

Searching for emotional resonance. The wonder of simplicity. An evening of dance from Laila Diallo. The programme features four dances and includes 'At-any-moment-something-else', a new solo for Theo Clinkard and commissioned by the dance festival, which explores a territory where events, scale and time take on incongruous, dreamlike qualities.

Laila was a member of Wayne McGregor's Random Dance between 1997 and 2005. Since 2005 she has been developing her own choreographic work which has been shown across the UK, in Europe and in Canada.

'She is a rising star' The Observer; 'Quietly dazzling' The Evening Standard

Sat 6 Mar

Yael Flexer & Nic Sandiland, Dance and Digital Works (UK)

'The Living Room'

Set in the bare bones of a living room or rehearsal studio, are the dancers interfering or assisting one another? Yael Flexer is an award-winning, leading choreographer in the UK. Her new show utilises her highly charged, energetic and witty approach to choreography.

'A gently deviant sense of humor' The Guardian; 'Dance that is unforced, unaffected, charming and smart' Time Out

Both shows commissioned by Woking Dance Festival

Telephone the Box Office on 0844 871 7645 to take advantage of this fantastic offer. The free ticket will be the cheapest one purchased.

Venue: The Rhoda McGaw Theatre, Woking.

Shows start at 7.30pm with a duration of around 60 minutes.

Further details on the festival programme available from www.wokingdancefestival.co.uk